DEPUTY FISTS FLY IN PARIS CHAMBER

Herriot's Stand On Religious Schools Causes Riot Among Solons

PARIS, March 20.—Only the prompt interference of ushers and adjournment of the Chamber of Deputies prevented furious fist fights this afternoon when Premier Herriot's response to an interpellation on the religious question raised a fight of dissenting opinions.

A canvass of spectators showed they were agreed that as many as twenty-five deputies were tusseling before the tribune, all trying to exchange blows simultaneously. A ballot box was thrown at one delegate which hit him on the head.

Despite the ushers' prompt action, Socialist Deputy Canaville made an effective and hard swing to the head of Conservative Leader Tattinger. President Paul Painlevé of the chamber suspended the session at 4:35 o'clock when it became apparent that there was no hope of continuing an orderly session.

Bitter Epithets

Deputies were exchanging bitter epithets and groups of deputies from the extreme Left had abandoned their seats to get into the action.

Herriot announced that it was France's intention to establish non-sectarian schools in Alsace as well as in the rest of France. The order resulted in a partial school strike in Alsace, where Bishop Ruch issued a proclamation against the government edict.

This committee finds that the state receipts for the next two years will be $128,000,000 and the state expenditures which are budgeted, $106,000,000. This does not take into account the finances of the self-supporting institutions and departments, which will have additional revenue of $19,000,000 or the highway commission, which will have additional revenue under the existing law of $38,000,000. The grand total revenue of all the departments for the state for the next two years will be $185,000,000, the committee reports.

EVENING NEWS IN ANOTHER BIG 'SCOOP'

First With Views of Coolidge Inauguration, First With Views of Tornado

The Glendale Evening News today presents the FIRST pictures of the tornado and fire that on Wednesday afternoon caused death and disaster in the middle west.

The Glendale Evening News presented the FIRST pictures of the inauguration of Calvin Coolidge as president of the United States, a history-making journalistic "scoop."

Now comes The Glendale Evening News with another big "scoop," for the presentation of the FIRST pictures of the tornado scenes sets another new record for Glendale and this newspaper.

The tornado pictures shown in today's edition of The Glendale Evening News were taken by International Newsreel and rushed to Chicago by airplane. There they were "telegraphed" to San Francisco by the new process in use by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

LIST OF DEAD NOW PLACED LESS THAN 850 TOTAL

Red Cross Officials Say Worst Already Known On Midwest Disaster

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, March 20.—The final death toll of Wednesday's tornado will contain less than 850 names, it was established with virtual certainty this afternoon when the semi-official casualty reports from the five states in the path of the storm placed the total dead at 823, an increase of but ten over the figures compiled by International News Service at 9 a.m.

Scattered deaths in rural districts probably as yet unreported and the establishing of the fact that several persons reported missing, were swept away by the tornado, it is believed may swell this slightly, but Red Cross officials declared the worst is already known.

The slight changes in the casualty figures today, in contrast to the wild, constantly-revised reports of yesterday, gave evidence of the order which has come out of the chaos in the devastated areas. It is not twenty-four hours since reliable officials were estimating the dead at upwards of 1500.

The dead by states this afternoon stood:

ILLINOIS, 650.
INDIANA, 99.
TENNESSEE, 34.
MISSOURI, 22.
KENTUCKY, 18.

Additional names of the dead in Wednesday's cyclone were posted today as follows:

AT MURPHYSBORO,
Ernest Hardie, Edward Neil,
Hugh Reeder, Ernest Bjick.
AT WEST FRANKFORT:
Mrs. Oscar Whittington and two children; Mrs. Robert Peck,
Randall Biggs and mother, Mrs.
Fred Biggs; Mrs. Nellie Hand.

RE-DISTRICT PLAN FAVORABLE TO L.A.

Country Would Get Two Extra Senators And Five Assemblymen

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—The Senate reapportionment committee today incorporated amendments in the West-Chamberlain-Sample reapportionment bill which would give Los Angeles county five additional assemblymen and two extra senators and deprive San Francisco of four members two in each House.

"These amendments provide for constitutional reapportionment as soon as possible," asserted Senator Sample. "Strict constitutional reapportionment is impossible due to the peculiar geographical situation in California." Under the terms of the bill the two populous counties would be represented in the Legislature as follows:

Los Angeles twenty assemblymen and ten senators; San Francisco, eleven assemblymen and five senators.

Los Angeles would gain its added strength in the upper House under the following changes: King and Tulare counties would be consolidated in one senatorial district, Santa Barbara county would lose one senator, Mendocino county would be incorporated in the district now embracing Humboldt, Del Norte, Trinity and Tehama counties, and San Francisco would lose two senators.

Chicago Cubs Ask For Seattle Third Sacker

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—Frank Brazil, third baseman obtained by Seattle from Portland in a trade a few months ago, is being sought by the Chicago Cubs, it was learned today. Officials of the National League called off a deal they had under way with Seattle for the services of Ted Baldwin. They have decided that Brazil, because of his fine hitting ability, would be more valuable to the Cubs.

These amendments provide for constitutional reapportionment as soon as possible," asserted Senator Sample. "Strict constitutional reapportionment is impossible due to the peculiar geographical situation in California." Under the terms of the bill the two populous counties would be represented in the Legislature as follows:

Los Angeles twenty assemblymen and ten senators; San Francisco, eleven assemblymen and five senators.

Los Angeles would gain its added strength in the upper House under the following changes: King and Tulare counties would be consolidated in one senatorial district, Santa Barbara county would lose one senator, Mendocino county would be incorporated in the district now embracing Humboldt, Del Norte, Trinity and Tehama counties, and San Francisco would lose two senators.

MRS. DENNISTOUN ASSURED VERDICT

Famous Society Scandal In England Prepares To Go To Jury

LONDON, March 20.—A verdict for Mrs. Dorothy Dennistoun in her suit for $6000 against her former husband, Colonel Dennis-toun, was indicated today when Justice McCarty announced he would ask the jury to determine if there were an agreement between the colonel and his wife, and if so, what it meant.

Testimony was concluded in the famous case which has furnished scandal-lovers a thirteen-day feast and courtroom drama summing up.

Lady Carnarvon, who was absent when the session started, made a belated appearance. She seemed on the verge of tears as she listened to Birkett's summing up.

Mrs. Dennistoun, on the other hand, was calm and unflinching except when the attorney referred to Sir John Cowans "going to his grave with curses on his lips for the woman who had deceived him." She was visibly moved by this denunciation of her. Birkett viciously lashed Mrs. Dennistoun in his argument.

Tabulations of Horror

817 DEAD, 3000 HURT, 10,000 HOMELESS

Property Loss $200,000,000

CHICAGO, March 20.—A careful recheck of casualty figures in the five states where Wednesday's tornado tore out its path of destruction today showed 817 dead, approximately 3000 injured, more or less seriously, and 10,000 homeless.

These tabulations of horror were compiled by International News Service from Red Cross reports and the figures of couriers sent through the devastated area and are believed to be as accurate as it is possible to obtain from the maze of destruction which the storm wrought.

The totals divided the dead by states as follows: Illinois, 650; Indiana, 103; Tennessee, 34; Missouri, 22, and Kentucky, 8. The Illinois figures include 489 known dead and allow for an additional 161 victims which the Red Cross officials believe will be added to the total before nightfall.

Property damage in the five states, it was estimated today, will run close to $200,000,000.

Four hundred and twenty-three bodies have been recovered early today from the ruins of what were once southern Illinois towns. By towns, the recovered dead number: Murphysboro, 124; Desoto, 102; West Frankfort, 94; Gorham, 67; Bush, 16; Parrish, 20.

Official "known dead" figures, consisting of bodies recovered, issued by the Red Cross at 8 o'clock this morning, gave the following totals:

ILLINOIS— West Frankfort, 114; Bush, 11; Murphysboro, 202; Desoto, 110; Gorham, 35; Parrish, 30; McLeansboro, 18; Logan, 15; Enfield, 13; Hurst, 5; Thompsonville, 8; Carmi, 3; Crossville, 2. Total for Illinois, 566.

MISSOURI— Cape Girardeau, 8; Bieble, 9; Annapolis, 3; Altenburg, 2. Total, 22.

Total for Illinois and Missouri, 588 bodies recovered. Estimated deaths in all towns bring possible total for Illinois to approximately 650.

Parr, president of the College club, who in turn introduced Dean Myers.

Mrs. Parr spoke of the close association of the College club and high school, telling of the scholarship loan fund awarded each year by the club to some girl graduate of the local high school. She announced that in April the club will give a party for the high school girls. The address by Dean Myers was arranged by Mrs. Frank C. Ayars, chairman of the educational committee.

SCHOOL CLASS TAKES HIKE ON DESERT

Merton Moser, One Of Party Of Chemistry Study, Recounts Trip

By MERTON MOSER
Glendale Union High School

Bronzed faces, excellent photographs rock and ore specimens, and happy memories remain of a memorable trip taken last weekend by the students of Mr. Turner's third period chemistry class to a beautiful section of the "Painted Desert," with its wonderful storehouses of chemical deposits, and mountains of abundant mineralogical wealth. The desert was never more beautiful, nor could the weather, as a whole, have been any better. The combination of ideal weather, alluring moonlight, colorful sunsets, and glorious sunrise, coupled with picturesque scenery of a land richly colored by the hand of nature, made a vacation trip long to be remembered.

Now was the trip altogether made for pleasure. From the educational standpoint it was decidedly worth while. Not only were the great mountains of various chemical deposits studied, but a very instructive trip was taken through the immense plant of the American Trona corporation at Trona. The monorail of the American Magnesium Co., leading from the Sealers-Trona branch of the Southern Pacific across the Panamint valley to Death Valley, where nature deposits 272,000 tons of magnesium sulphate. The railroad was studied because of its uniqueness.

MAMMOTH 'STILL' FOUND BY POLICE

Chief Fraser's Men Unearth Biggest Liquor Cache Ever In City

What Chief John D. Fraser of the Glendale police department declares is the largest and best equipped "still" ever raided in the city of Glendale, located at 1111 Rosedale street, was put out of business yesterday afternoon by his men, and Joe Peterson, found there, was placed under arrest. Over 1000 gallons of whiskey mash were destroyed and nearly fifty gallons of raw whiskey, declared to be 100 per cent proof, were poured away.

Peterson spent the night in the city jail and this morning was taken before Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court, charged with manufacture and possession of intoxicating liquor. His preliminary hearing was set for April 6 on the former count and his bail fixed at $1000. He pleaded guilty on the possession count and was fined $500. On failure to pay his fine, he will be taken to the Los Angeles county jail at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

House Burglar
George W. Brewer, arrested March 18 on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was released this morning on deposit of $300 bail. His case is set for April 6.

Burglars last night made a clean sweep of the residence of Mayor Mason, 1830 East Gardeña avenue, making off with several hundred dollars' worth of valuables, comprising jewelry and art ornaments recently brought back from the Orient. Sergeants C. P. Black and F. C. Williams are at work on a clue.

POSTALCLERKS RAISE IN PAY COMES DUE

Local Postoffice Employees Each Receive Increase From January 1

Increased compensation checks received by Glendale postal employees yesterday and today under the provisions of the recently enacted postal bill netted each of the ninety-five members of Uncle Sam's "army in gray" in this city approximately $63. Every employee at the local office, including the carriers, clerks and others, participated in the raise. Only Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson is excluded, no provisions for postal masters being made in the bill.

The raise in pay is retroactive to January 1, the extra pay including the period from January 1 to March 15. In the future the raise will amount to $25 every two weeks. This will mean an addition of approximately $30,000 yearly to the Glendale postoffice payroll. Postmaster Jackson pointed out, bringing the total paid to postal employees in this city to $160,000 annually. Virtually all of the ninety-five employees of the local postoffice reside in Glendale.

"I stated I was in favor of abolishing all superfluous municipal offices. I will give here a short platform on which I am making the race.

"I am in favor of lower taxes, and fewer bonds, and economical expenditure of public money. I am in favor of government of the people, for the people, by the people. I am in favor of absolute majority rules on any and all matters coming before the council. The councilmen are servants of the people—not the people servants of the council. I am in favor of open council meetings at all times. I am in favor of night sessions so as to give the working people a chance to attend all council meetings, and, if elected, to this end I will work."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Morrell of 403 Lincoln avenue were dinner hosts to twelve guests last night, in celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Morrell's sister, Mrs. Jules Shaleck of Hollywood.

In outlining his view of how Glendale might gain fame by an annual presentation of this colorful page from its past, Mr. McGroarty discouraged the idea of a pageant and street carnival, stating that not only were these

Poet of Verdugo Hills Discourages Pageant and Carnival Idea; Says Canyon Is Ideal Setting

After hearing John Steven McGroarty outline his idea of how Glendale might stage an annual Spanish play commemorative of the occupation of California by the American forces, at a dinner meeting held last night at the Casa Verdugo cafe on Mountain street, the advisory committee of the proposed fiesta authorized the executive committee to prepare a detailed plan and submit it for approval.

The meeting was presided over by W. L. Twining, chairman of the executive committee. D. H. Smith, chairman of the advisory committee, occupied a position at the left of Mr. Twining and John Steven McGroarty was on his right at the speakers' table. There were present in all thirty members of the two committees, in addition to the famed author of the "Mission Play."

Mr. McGroarty then cited the modest production of "Ramona" at Hemet, where 10,000 people a day made the difficult journey to see the production of Helen Hunt Jackson's immortal story.

THE OLD COUNTRY CHURCH—
Finds the new country club a poor successor.
Looks well surrounded by automobiles.
Always contributed more to the people than they contributed to it.
Can't die without everyone in the community being the loser.
Remains a necessity so long as national prosperity depends on character.
Needs no better justification than the Christian lives it has produced.
Has done more for the nation than all our Broadways and white lights.

THE MISSION OF MANKIND

Judge Erskine M. Ross must believe, with George Bernard Shaw, that work is the mission of mankind on this earth. Shaw says, "A day is ever struggling forward, a day will arrive, in some approximate degree, when he who has no work to do, by whatever name he may be called, will not find it good to show himself in our quarter of the solar system, but may go and look out elsewhere if there be any idle planet discoverable."

No more complete characterization of Judge Ross can ever be given than this sentence appearing in news announcements of his recent resignation from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals: "He kept his place on the bench for nine years after he might have retired with full pay."

How many men after thirty years' honorable service, having earned the right to retire at full pay would not have seized the opportunity to free themselves from work and worry and spend their remaining days in idleness and pleasure? Judge Ross worked for nine years for pure love of work. His salary would have continued if he had resigned nine years ago. In any case the salary would not have been considered. And Judge Ross was wise. A man who has been active all his life cannot with impunity suddenly stop the work of his hands or his brain unless age or ill health demand it.

Glenelde claims Judge Ross, since he was among the first Americans to buy land in this part of the valley. He and the late C. E. Thom set out the first orange orchards in Glenelde in that beautiful section of Verdugo canyon now known as Rossmoyne. Glenelde is proud of the honorable and eminent record of Judge Ross on the bench.

INJUSTICE TO CHILDREN

Twenty per cent of the children of this country between the ages of 5 and 18 are not attending school, according to a report of the United States Bureau of Education. Eliminating those below six years who do not have kindergarten facilities and those who attend school after eighteen, there is left an appalling number of children who receive no school instruction whatsoever.

In populous districts of most states compulsory education laws gather in truants and neglected children, but those who live in thinly populated regions with bad roads are often doomed to lives of illiteracy. Where population is sparse, roads are bad and the assessed valuation of property very low it is clear that school districts sufficiently small to provide accommodations for all the children cannot be established. And since it is the custom in apportioning state school funds to do so on the basis of attendance it is these isolated schools that suffer; the state funds go to schools already provided for.

In some regions school busses are solving the problem of distance, but in the poor districts funds for such a purpose are not available.

Education is a matter of public policy. It should be the first duty of the state and nation to provide educational facilities for all of the children. Good and intelligent citizenship is not possible without education, and illiterates often become public charges. The children of poor parents living in isolated districts should have the opportunity to get some schooling. The state should be as much interested in them as in the children who live in the populous districts.

INSURANCE FOR VICTIMS

A woman who was injured in an automobile accident, the victim of a reckless driver, makes the suggestion that no one should be allowed to drive a car unless he is responsible physically, morally and financially. This woman was confined to her bed for more than three months with a broken leg and other injuries as the result of carelessness on the part of a motorist. Yet the man who is responsible for her injuries says that he is not able to pay damages or even her doctor bill, and of course she has no recourse. She believes that every man and woman who drives a car should be compelled to carry insurance to protect those they may run down.

If some drivers were carrying insurance for their victims it might make them more careless than ever. The thought of damages may cause them to take thought now and then, but if they could divide the worry between the insurance company and the victim they would be absolutely happy and irresponsible.

WASTING GOOD BLOOD

Among the things we should worry about, according to one editorial writer, is the fact that we are wasting too much good blood as the result of wealthy men maintaining their families in idleness and luxury. Men who have amassed fortunes are nearly always distinguished by superior ability and if there is anything at all in the theory of the influence of heredity, these sons and daughters of fortune possess latent qualities which might be of great value to civilization. And so when rich men allow their children to idle away their time in pursuit of pleasure they may be depriving the country of a great resource.

There is a large group of men in New York known as "Paris fathers." They are the hard-working stay-at-homes whose wives, sons and daughters flit to Paris on an elegant liner and there in voluptuous pastures hit the pace.

We cannot measure the good blood that is wasted in the pursuit of pleasure, but the ruined lives are all too obvious.

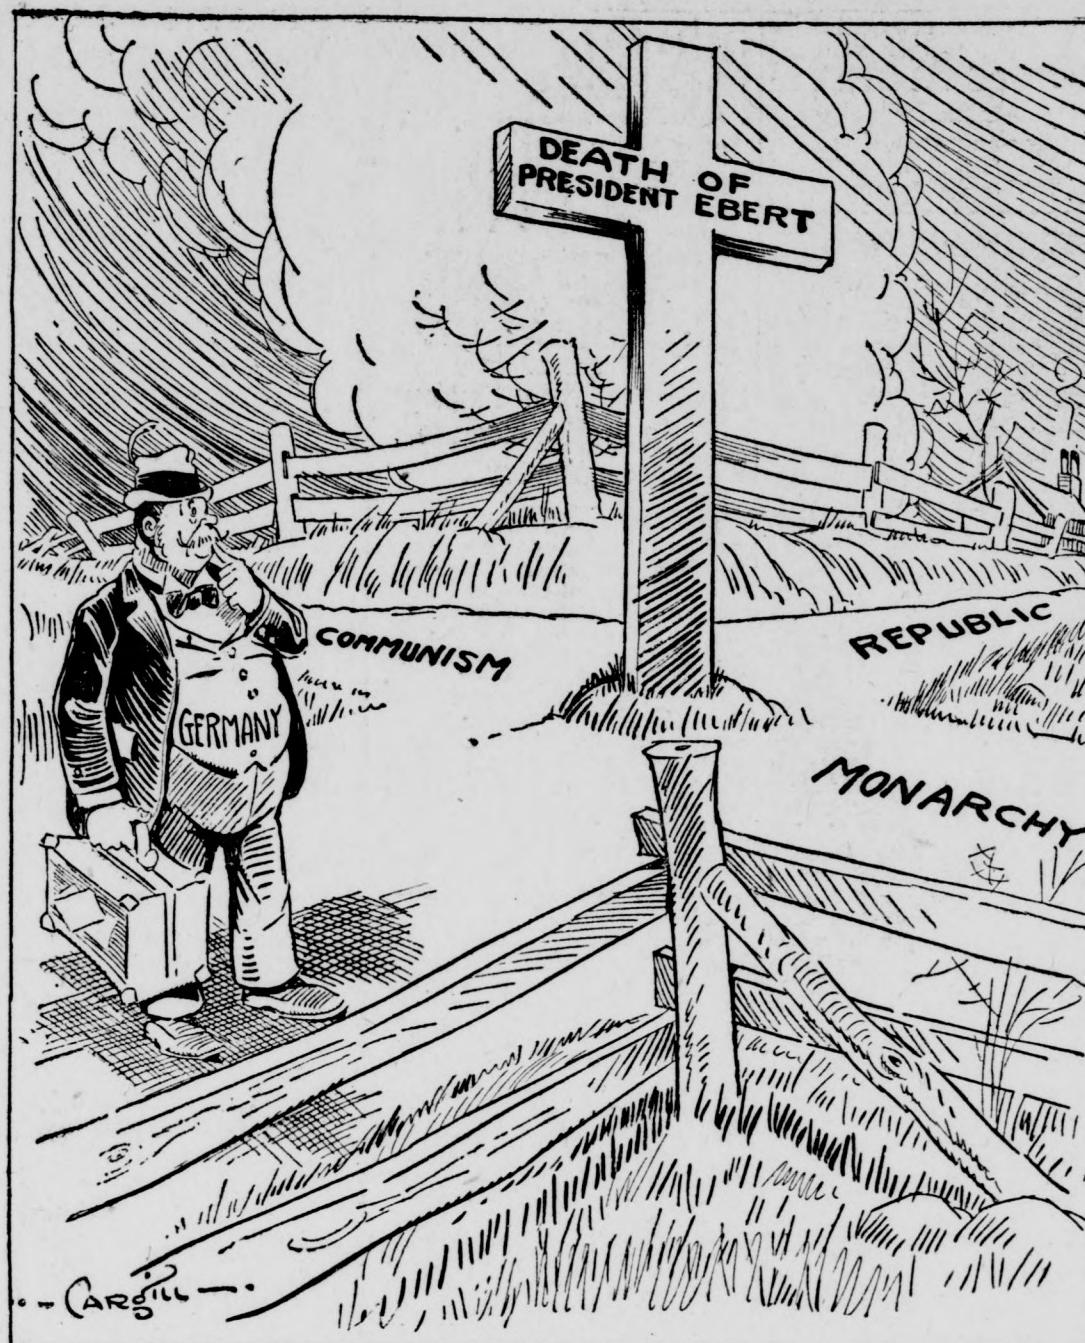

OLD-FASHIONED PARIS

In some respects, Paris, dictator of women's fashions and the gathering-place of the ultra-smart, is far behind the times. New York city has more telephones than are in use in all of France. On the streets of Paris there are 500,000 vehicles of different sorts and of these only 50,000 are privately-owned automobiles, while 400,000 are bicycles. Imagine any American city with eight times as many bicycles on its streets as automobile.

It is amusing that American women still allow the old world to tell them what to wear. But there are signs of breaking away from the dictation of Paris in the matter of styles that bodes no good for the French designers of gowns and hats.

There is a grand opening for an insurance man with a policy that will insure domestic felicity.

AT THE CROSS ROADS!

The Supremacy Of Law

By DR. FRANK CRANE

No nation can continue to exist that does not have laws and respect them.

Civilized society is built up around the fabric of law.

There are those who use intoxicating liquors and who do not think the country ought to prohibit their sale and transportation.

These people have a perfect right to work for the abolition of the Volstead law and the constitutional amendment against liquor. But they have not the right to seek to make an exception of this law as against all the others.

There are many people who have to pay income taxes, inheritance taxes and other assessments. These laws may be very unjust, but as long as they are made by the governing body of the land they should be adhered to.

The best way to get rid of a bad law, as Grant said, is to enforce it.

Unless government enforces a law evenly and justly all around, it has no right to exist.

Every effort ought to be made, therefore, to assist the president and his associates in executing laws. They should be obeyed implicitly. For we may be sure that whatever interferes with our personal liberty is an expression of the will of the majority and to that will we must bow.

If every man who disagreed with the law undertook to violate it we should be a nation of criminals.

President Coolidge said: "Where the law goes, there civilization goes and stays. Where the laws fall, barbarism flourishes. Whoever scorns the law, whoever brings it into disrespect, whoever connives at its evasion, is an enemy to civilization."

Judge Gary said: "We should openly and fearlessly discuss the merits of any law or of all laws when the occasion demands. But no man has the right to violate any law while it is in force, unless his honest, deliberate conscience compels him to do so on what he thinks to be reasonable and moral grounds. If it turns out that he was wrong in his opinion he must subject himself to the penalty provided for violation."

Thoughtful minds are agreed upon the necessity for maintaining respect for the law. There are very few of us who are entirely pleased with all the laws that are passed, but we should work honestly for their repeal and not seek to violate them.

What a community would be if there were no law, that is no relegation of our own rights to higher authorities, is exemplified by Herrin. There crime is rampant. For the rule is that of violence and not of respect for law.

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as an unimportant day in planetary direction. Venus and Uranus are mildly adverse in influence. Under this rule it is well to pursue matters already planned, delaying all initiative.

Women should take no risks in professional or commercial enterprises, for they are likely to meet obstacles. Most unfavorable is the rule to the association of men and women in business projects, for there will be inharmony, it is predicted.

For an American ambassador who will make more friends in Europe than he can count here is prophesied. Both men and women in public life will travel much from this time on and there is a sign presaging widespread speaking.

The south is subject to a sway of the stars making for great prosperity through new settlers and novel enterprises. Sectional jealousies will be strong all through the year and warning is given that even in states internal troubles may divide interests. One of the signs interpreted by the seers gives promise of extraordinary beauty for the next generation which will manifest strong reactions from all artificial standards.

Universities at the end this year are to be overcrowded as never before if the stars are wisely interpreted and many changes in policy will mark institutions of learning. All the signs appear to foreshadow great mental unrest which disturbs the harmony of every sort of organization and causes much unnecessary unhappiness. This planetary influence presages continued increase of divorce and criticism of marriage laws.

Agitation regarding the treatment of the physically unfit who pass on to posterity serious diseases will be widespread it is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a quiet year in which they may have unpleasant domestic anxieties.

Children born on this day may expect smooth and pleasant careers. These subjects of Pisces

THE LIFE WITHOUT PASSION

They that have power to hurt, and will do none,

That do not do the thing they most do show,

Who moving others, are themselves as stone,

Unmoved, cold, and to temptation slow,—

They rightly do inherit heaven's graces,

And husband nature's riches from expense;

They are the lords and owners of their faces,

Others, but stewards of their excellence.

The summer's flower is to the summer sweet,

Though to itself it only live and die;

But if that flower with base inflection meet,

The basest weed outbraves his dignity.

For sweetest things turn sourest by their deeds;

Lilies that fester smell far worse than weeds.

New President of Federation
Suggests Parents Stay

NEW YORK, March 20.—The general federation of women's clubs is answering the question, "what's wrong in the home?" And the answer is that there is too little parental control nowadays.

Have parents shifted the responsibility of the moral and ethical training of the children to the schools and churches to the detriment of the present and coming generations? Should the old-fashioned be restored? Yes, answers Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, new president of the federation, who is leading this organization of five or six million American club women in a campaign to restore parental control in the home.

Rev. Campbell Trotter, pastor of the Methodist church of Santa Fe Springs, recently entertained the congregation and friends of the local Methodist church with an expose of "fake" spiritualism, denouncing practically every act of mediums and holding these acts to be merely tricks any magician can do. The dinner that preceded the entertainment was served by Circle No. 1 of the Ladies' Aid society, in charge of Mrs. F. P. Ripley.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas of Maysville, Kentucky, visited here recently with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Young of 635 Tujunga avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Fellows of 730 Tujunga avenue, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hall of Glendale, motored Tuesday to Victorville and San Bernardino.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Howe, who have been living in Los Angeles, have returned to their residence at 728 Tujunga avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Maas and daughter of Fort Huachuca, Arizona, and sister, Miss Helen Chamberlain of Chicago, visited Tuesday with Miss Porter, who is living at the home of W. A. Rogers and family at 1044 Santa Anita avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dutcher of Minneapolis and their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Johnson, also of Minneapolis, visited recently at the home of Mrs. C. M. Gile of 375 Santa Anita avenue.

R. C. Macaulay of Wichita, Kansas, and his father-in-law, J. E. Johnston, formerly of the same place but for the past four years of Long Beach, were in Burbank today.

Federal Court Commissioner

CELIA COOK, who presides over the office of U. S. commissioner in Mississippi, is a flapper and proud of it, she says. She has bobbed hair and is only 22 years old.

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Mar. 20.—The flapper has scored again. The modern portia is making her plea before numerous bars of justice throughout the country, two members of the sex having been elevated to the highest executive offices of Texas and Wyoming, and several having attained seats in Congress. Now a 22-year-old girl, flapper and proud of it, has attained the office of United States commissioner in Mississippi.

Miss Celia Cook, pretty blonde, with bobbed hair and enticing dimples, has been appointed to the high federal office and has taken up her duties in the office of the Clarksdale district.

Miss Cook was appointed to the office by Federal Judge E. R. Holmes to succeed P. D. Cockrell.

The flapper commissioner has had considerable experience in federal court work, having served as deputy court clerk for several terms.

Miss Cook is the daughter of H. J. Cook, U. S. marshal for the Clarksdale district, and is a sister of Miss Vivian Cook, one of the three women lawyers of Mississippi.

CONTRACT FOR SEWER WORK IS SIGNED

All Eight Sections Placed
In Construction Today
By Contractors

Contracts were signed yesterday afternoon by the low bidders on eight sections of the Glendale sewer mains, it was reported today by Virgil B. Stone, city manager. Culjak & Bebek, contractors, who signed on Sections 5 and 11, refused to sign on Section 8, repudiating their low bid of $45,407.95. The next lowest bidder ran $11,542 over this figure.

Work started on all eight sections this morning according to information received by Mr. Stone from John F. Johansson, city engineer. It will be necessary to re-advertise for bids on Section 8. The council will probably instruct A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, to take this step at the next meeting, Thursday, March 26.

Stone Overruled
The council overruled the city manager in permitting Culjak & Bebek to sign on Sections 5 and 11 and repudiate their low bid on Section 8. Mr. Stone had recommended that the contractors be made to sign on all three sections, living up to their low bids on each section, or that they be refused all three contracts and bids be readvertised on the three sections in dispute.

Refusal of the council to abide by the recommendation of the city manager has produced a unique situation. While Culjak & Bebek are at work on Sections 5 and 11 for the city of Glendale, they will be defending themselves in a suit by the city for forfeiture of their $11,000 bid bond on Section 8, provided the city decides to prosecute them.

The other low bidders who signed contracts yesterday were announced by Mr. Stone as follows: John R. Artukovich, Section 4; and J. G. Donovan, Sections 6, 7, 9, 10, 12.

that will cost only a fraction of what a pageant would cost and yet that will be a far greater advertisement for the city. In a mountain canyon, at night, with lights, you can work magic—and in your green Verdugo hills, in the magnificent park recently donated by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand, you have the ideal canyon.

You have also in Glendale a stirring story, the American occupation of California in 1847-48 by General Fremont, who came down through Cahuenga pass, joined General Kearny, and conquered the brave Californians under General Andreas Pico, brother of Pio Pico, the last Spanish governor of the state.

You have that famous "Old Adobe" in Verdugo Woodlands, where Pico and his defeated band gathered and, realizing that the end was at hand, decided on surrender. It was a great hour in that old house, a great hour for California and America, a great hour for Glendale. You have stirring history here in your city, all the material needed for a great play that, presented annually, will bring you increasing fame.

Romantic Touch
"For a romantic touch, add some dark-eyed daughter of the Verdugos, and you will have the story complete. There is some local writer here who can write the play. Throw the contest open and you will be surprised at the results you will get. Then let your high school pupils, your Community Service and other civic organizations join in putting on the play in your canyon in Brand park, in the Verdugo hills. I suggest you hold the play in the autumn, in the time of the great harvest moon, probably on September 9, in commemoration of Admission Day, as you plan."

I don't want Glendale to do anything commonplace. You have an opportunity to do something fine. Any old town can put on a carnival and "hot dog" fair. Do something different for Glendale. Give your city a soul."

Following is the list of those present: John Steven McGroarty, W. L. Twinling, D. H. Smith, C. J. Hatz, Mrs. H. H. Montgomery, Mrs. Carter Campbell, Mrs. Josephine Woolsey, Mrs. W. L. Truitt, W. L. Truitt, Ed N. Radke, A. R. Eastman, E. U. Emery, Clark Dilley, Richardson D. White, Bert P. Woodard, Frank L. Fox, W. E. Hewitt, A. T. Cowan, E. W. W. Haywood, T. W. Watson, S. C. Kinch, J. M. STAGE AND SCREEN

VIEWS AND PREVIEWS—NEWS NOTES FROM STUDIOS

THE GATEWAY

For thrills, comedy, beauty, and more thrills we recommend "The Dixie Handicap," Reginald Barker's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, which is playing at the Gateway Theater today and Saturday, as one of the most all-around satisfactory pictures of the year. Rarely have we seen any picture as exciting, or at the same time, as pleasing to the eye. There are several reasons for both.

For excitement there are a number of races that surpass anything done before on the screen, picturing the "Sport of Kings." The earlier ones take place at a county fair, and the climax race is the international contest between the horse of the film and the English champion. These scenes were taken at Latonia and their authenticity added a good deal of interest to the picture.

For beauty you need go no further than Claire Windsor, who plays the leading feminine role, that of Virginia, the daughter of Judge Roberts (portrayed by Frank Keenan). No such treat for ailing eyes has passed across the screen in many a day; it is indeed easy to understand why Miss Windsor has been picked as one of America's most beautiful women. And the backgrounds of the picture offer a very pleasing sight, with their Southern atmosphere and quaint views of the track.

Then, of course, there is Frank Keenan as the judge. Always a colorful actor, Mr. Keenan does some of his best work in "The Dixie Handicap," playing his role of the aristocratic old Southerner who falls into poverty, with rare restraint.

Lloyd Hughes is delightfully different as the hero. His is a role that combines comedy with straight heroics, an extremely difficult combination that Mr. Hughes conquers with ease. The remainder of the competent cast includes John Sainpolis, Otis Harlan, Edward Martindel, Otto Hoffmann and Joseph Morrisson.

Mr. Barker's direction is flawless, his handling of the racing scenes being especially effective. Waldemar Young wrote the adaptation of the story by Gerald Beaumont, which tells how a young man, picked up on the verge of imprisonment, and the colt he has developed, bring the old judge back to the affluence and position that were once his. The romance is centered on the love of the youth for the judge's daughter.

Altogether, "The Dixie Handicap" rates high in the racing field.

ROBINSON PLAYERS

Because of the decided popularity of "The Ruined Lady" at the Glendale Playhouse this week the attraction is being held over for another week and the premiere of "Manna" is postponed until Monday, March 20. Much special scenery is being built for the latter feature.

Three of the houses for next week have already been sold out. The Chamber of Commerce and the Tuesday Morning club have declared "All Glendale" nights for Monday and Tuesday, March 23 and 24, and have invited surrounding towns to participate with them. This insures capacity audiences. Friday, March 27, is Chamber of Commerce night and this house has been sold out.

The Robinson Players are beginning to break records. The Tuesday night audience was the largest Tuesday gathering in the history of the Robinson company and the audiences on Wednesday and Thursday were well above the average.

FOREST VACATIONS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., March 20.—In spite of the fact that 10,000,000 people were counted in the national forests of the United States last summer on vacation trips, the idea of using our forests for recreation is still in its infancy compared to the way European forests are developed for this purpose.

DETERMINATION

WEST BROMWICH, England, March 20.—Isaac William Sherman, of this city, was a most determined worker before his death. After he had jumped into a nearby river, taken poison and attempted to sever an artery, he was finally arrested in the act of hanging himself from a bedrail.

At Glendale

"On Time" is the picture production at the Glendale theatre. There is also an excellent vaudeville program being offered.

A full quota of thrills is furnished in Richard Talmadge's newest starring vehicle, "On Time," opening today at the Glendale theatre. Henry Lehrman, director, has also injected many laughs into this snappy film. The story deals with the uncertain and much-travelled road to success of Harry Willis, a young man of pluck and ambition, as played by Richard Talmadge. Naturally there is a girl, the same one, at the beginning and at the end of the young man's adventures. An unscrupulous dealer in art objects, with an eye to the beautiful young lady, does his utmost to put skids under the hero's ambitions—and almost succeeds.

Because the young man has thrown away, as a jinx, a strange Chinese idol which the young lady had given him as a good luck token when he started out to find success, the art dealer sets the boss of Chinatown against him by accusing him of wilfully losing the idol, which they look upon as sacred. In the unfolding of thrilling events there is a capture of the girl by the Chinamen and a sensational rescue in their den, where the hero fights single-handed against the entire tong.

Five Orpheum acts, booked through the Western Vaudeville Managers' association, are also on the program today and Saturday at the Glendale theatre, announces Manager William A. Howe. The headline act is the three Weber Girls.

"Attractive in themselves, these girls provide an unusually interesting number," says Mr. Howe. "They appear first in a singing and dancing bit, then go into a series of unusual gymnastic stunts and end with a round of acrobatic feats that are no less than astounding."

The other four Orpheum acts offered are: The Friedlander Brothers, in "A Musical Sensation"; Hays and Lillian, in "Pollyology," a comedy singing and talking act; Cliff Dean, in "The Snail," surrounded by a clever cast, and Joe Chirsty and Ruth McDonald, in "Song and Piano Eccentricities."

BURTON HEIGHTS OPENED FOR SALE

Thirty Lots In Tract Placed
On Market By Owner,
L. H. Wilson

An opportunity to obtain lots in Burton Heights at prices as low as obtained two years ago is offered by L. H. Wilson, owner and subdivider, 1034 South San Fernando road, who is closing out the last lots, on terms of $10 down and $1 a month. The tract is located in the La Crescenta valley, on Pennsylvania avenue, just south of Michigan boulevard. Sunday will be "open house," when it is expected that all or most of the lots will be sold.

"Lying just two blocks north of the Glendale-Montrose street car line, and commanding a magnificent view of the entire valley, these lots are ideally situated," says Mr. Wilson, "and are offered at such bargain prices that they are sure to go fast. If you are looking for an ideal place for a home, where peace and quiet prevail, yet with all city advantages, these lots at Burton Heights are certain to please.

Health Resort
"According to a government survey, the La Crescenta valley is the healthiest spot in the west. You have only to drive to the tract to see the advantages of these lots. It will pay to buy them now and hold them for certain raises in value.

"Burton Heights is within two blocks of the La Crescenta school and close to a business district. Water and electricity are already on the tract and gas is within two blocks. In a few years the prices of lots in this section will be out of sight. An opportunity such as is offered now will never come again."

Somewhat fastidious in his tastes, and instinctively repelled by the girl's vulgarity, he could not but acknowledge that she possessed a good deal of beauty of the showy red, white and gold variety. There was a gleam of savagery in her heavy-lidded eyes, and the soft white fingers of one dimpled hand, which were opening and closing, clawlike, against the seat of the sofa, made him think of the soft, sudden claws of a cat. He watched the hand with interest. Sometimes it stroked the smooth, deep plush as if luxuriating in its softness; sometimes it clutched it with spasmodic fierceness. The girl, meanwhile, was watching Flint intently through half-closed eyes as he stood by the sofa, chin in hand, deep in thought. She dropped her eyes uneasily when he looked up and caught her gaze, and her nervous fingers slipped out of sight behind the tufted seat of the sofa. Instantly she drew them back with a sharp cry.

"What do you know about that?" she exclaimed angrily. "Somebody has left a horrid pin sticking in the stuffing. I've given myself a perfectly awful scratch. My, but it hurts!" She rolled her fingers hastily in her handkerchief. "It's bleeding to beat the band," she wailed. "Just wait till I find the beastly thing!"

She squirmed over on to her knees and began feeling gingerly in the depths of the upholstery to a running accompaniment of shrill lamentations. Suddenly the groping and the lamentations stopped abruptly.

"Found it?" asked Flint. "No," she answered in a breathless sort of way. "That is, I haven't found the head yet—only the point."

She probed a few minutes longer in the yielding depths, and then, with a sinuous twist of her supple body, turned and threw herself back among the cushions. "Got the grace of a cat at me," she cried excitedly, holding up a jeweled hatpin. "Beauty, isn't it! It's Miss Estelle Hurst's. Funny place for it to get to, I call it. Say, what's this about Miss Hurst anyway? Marie told me she was missing."

"Not returned, was probably what Marie meant," Flint answered quietly. "Miss Hurst, I believe, has been spending the night with a friend."

Graham felt that he had still something to learn from Flint concerning the "lie convincing."

"Oh, I thought she might have eloped or something like that," said Miss Smith.

Graham was struck with a curious quality in the girl's tone. "Not that I know of," said Flint.

"Well, it looks queer, her being off and her father murdered and all. It isn't, so to speak, fatal."

"Doubtless Miss Hurst will return as soon as she hears of her father's death," Flint observed.

Graham wondered at his continuing the conversation; the girl repelled him.

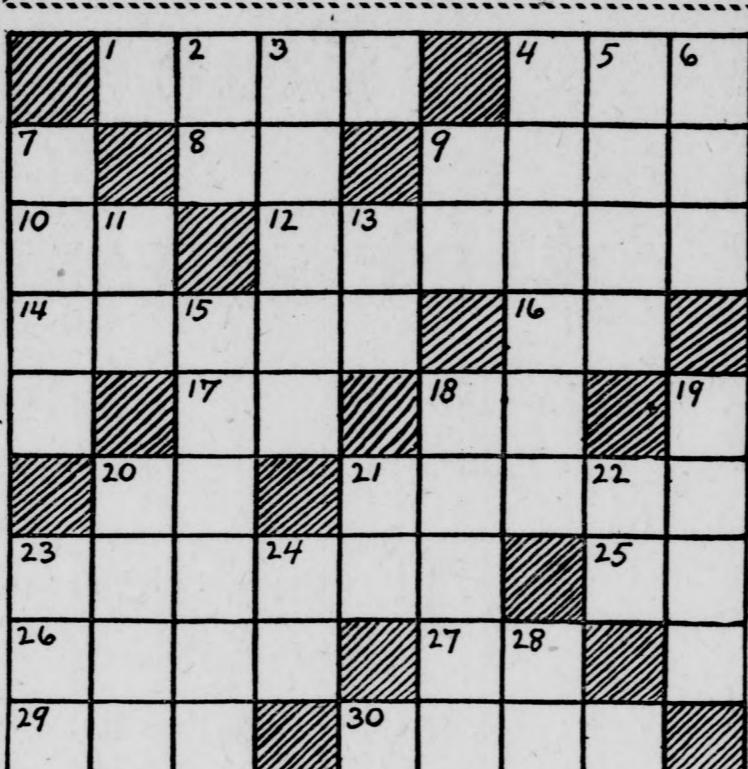

"Well, she may, and again she mayn't," she was saying. "I'm not stuck on Miss Hurst. She's a heartless piece, hard as nails. And she's not stuck on me—perhaps you can guess why! But, let me tell you, I'm a bang-up stenographer, if I am pretty."

The color was burning now in her cheeks in two hard, bright spots, as she rattled on excitedly. "Well, as there's nothing I can do, I guess I'll go now," she said, "unless there's something more I can tell you."

Flint thanked her, took her ad-

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE

The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The numbers correspond with the numbers on the diagram. Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains its identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterruptedly. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white spaces remain uninterruptedly.

out, she's got something against her."

"I'd rather feel her claws than her silky paws," said Graham. "But look here Flint, my idea about the thief wasn't so far out of the way, was it? Now that we know that the safe was opened and robbed, I mean." A hint of elation crept into his voice. He was beginning to be a trifle impressed with his own cleverness.

To his disappointment Flint only nodded absently. "Unfortunately the thief theory doesn't account for everything," he said at last, "for Mrs. Hurst's queer behavior last night, for instance, or for Miss Estelle Hurst's absence—between ourselves you might say disappearance."

"Denis told me it was a way she had—vanishing like this when something goes wrong with her," proffered Graham.

"Well, that may explain one point, but all the same there are some other very queer ones about this case. We've made a start already. May I say to you, Mr. Graham, but I haven't found anything yet which throws positive light on the subject."

ICE CREAM DIET

SALISBURY, Rhodesia, March 20.—Ice cream may be delightful but it palls upon the palate when it is the only food obtainable for days and days in the wilds of the African jungles, according to sixty half-starved and exhausted passengers who reached here after being marooned for three days while en route from Beira.

It was a magnificent bit of painting, both of a lovely body and of an unlovely soul. Miss Smith rose and stood before it.

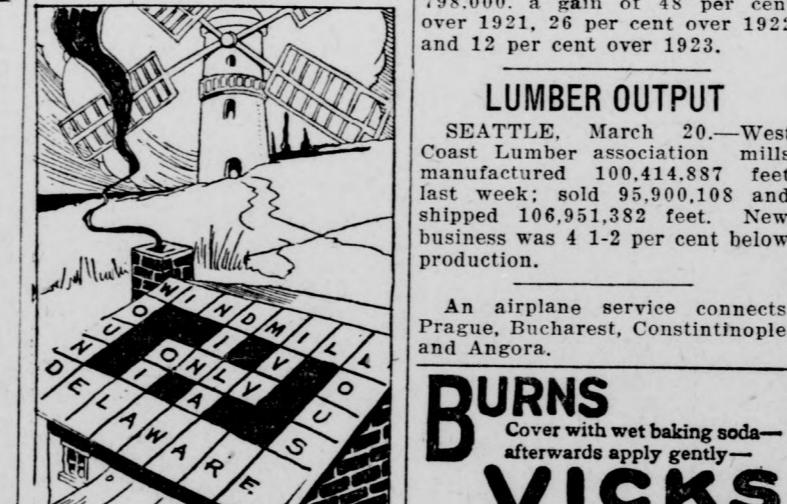

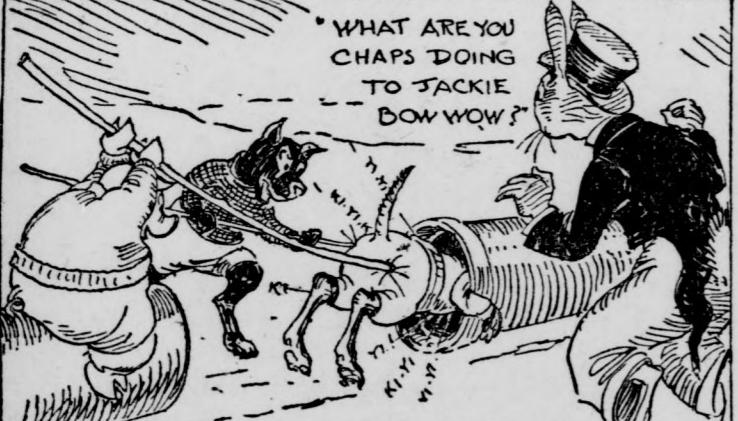

"There's no denying she's handsome," she exclaimed angrily. "but my, isn't she vicious!" I wouldn't trust her not to stick a knife into your back, if there was one handy, when she was in one of her rages. She and Mr. Hurst used to have it hot and heavy—didn't mind me a bit."

"What did they disagree about?" asked Flint.

"Oh, well, various things," replied Miss Smith evasively. She gave a last look at the portrait, her fist clinching as she looked, and then, with a muttered word, Graham thought it was a curse, she turned away, nodded to the two men and went out.

"Well, deliver me from that little cat!" Flint exclaimed. "She's got too much scratch in her for me. Miss Hurst had better look

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FUNNY RACE

The March wind was whistling down the chimney and around the corner of the hollow stump bungalow where Uncle Wiggily lived. The rabbit gentleman stopped twinkling his pink nose and reached for his tall, silk hat that was growing on top of the hat-tree in the hall.

"Are you going out?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Just long enough to buy a paper with a new cross-word puzzle in," answered the rabbit gentleman to the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"But are you going to wear your tall, silly hat?" went on Nurse Jane.

"Why not?" asked the bunny.

"I can do a cross-word puzzle as well in a tall hat as in a short one."

"No! No! I didn't mean that!" laughed Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I meant that the wind is blowing so hard it will blow your tall hat off your head more easily than your short, low cap."

"Pooch! I'm not afraid of the March wind!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, and forth he fared, as a moving picture title might say, out into the great open places where rabbits grow whiskers.

But Uncle Wiggily had not gone very far before the March wind puffed out its cheeks and gave such a blow that it sent the bunny's hat off his head, rolling over and over away from him.

"Naughty! Naughty!" chided Aunt Lettie, the lady goat, looked from her window and seeing Uncle Wiggily racing along, called to him:

"Are you running for a train, Uncle Wiggily? If you are, the depot is the other way down the street."

"I'm after my hat—not the train!" laughed the rabbit, and on he hopped, faster than before. The wind now lifted the hat up in the air, sending it along just above the top of a small hill. On the other side of the hill the Fox had his den.

Uncle Wiggily, playful like "Papa slap! Papa slap!"

But the hat was in no humor to be joked with, nor was the wind; so one blew and the other rolled and Uncle Wiggily started off on a funny race after his hat.

The Fox made a leap and landed on the hat. But, of course, Uncle Wiggily wasn't under it, and down the Fox came to the ground, very heavily, bumping his nose, and scratching his toes and shaking himself like a bowl of jelly.

"Gurr! Gurr!" growled the Fox, when he saw that the hat was empty. "Fooled again! The rabbit wasn't in his hat! Get out!" and he gave the hat a kick, sending it over in the bushes, where it was caught and held fast.

Then the Fox, angry and disappoind, hobbled back lamely to his den. And a little while afterward along came Uncle Wiggily. The bunny saw where his hat was caught in the bushes and got it.

"You're a bit the worse for wear," said the rabbit gentleman as he noticed how dirty and crushed his hat was where the Fox had fallen on it. "But I can have you cleaned and pressed and you'll be like a bowl of jelly."

So Mr. Longears did this, and how he laughed when Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy, who had been hiding up a tree, told about the Fox who had rolled over in the empty hat. And if the chocolate cake isn't too proud to speak to the bread and butter, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's spring song.

ANSWERS TO MOTHERS

Rachitis (Rickets) and Sunshine

(Part 1)

As a rule I don't believe in listing symptoms of disease to the layman unless they are the preliminary symptoms which will serve as a warning to prevent further symptoms. Under this exception, I am going to list some of the symptoms, and tell you of the results of rickets, because it is a disease that is easily prevented and that is easily cured.

Nearly 50 per cent of breast fed babies and nearly 100 per cent of bottle fed babies will develop rickets unless proper precautions are taken to prevent it.

When a baby develops rickets, the bones do not get (or if they get it they do not utilize) the calcium, phosphorus and mineral elements necessary for their structure, and they become soft, especially at the epiphyses (the location on the long bones just before the joints). The bones being soft, bend easily and unless the disease is cured, when the mineral elements are finally deposited the bones become permanently deformed.

The long bones are the arms and leg and rib bones. The ribs in the front, by the side of the breast bone, are liable to bend and buckle out little and little knobs form, causing what is known as the rachitic rosary. The flat bones of the skull are also softened and the head of a rachitic baby is liable to be large and boxy looking. The muscles are lax and flabby; the relaxation of the abdominal muscles results in a very prominent abdomen, that we call the "pot belly". (It is natural for all babies to have round and slightly prominent bellies).

Rachitic babies are very restless and fretful; they tire and perspire easily, particularly around the head and neck, especially during sleep; and digestion is weak. Such babies are very liable to contract colds and have bronchitis and pneumonia.

PREVENTION. 1. Adequate diet containing the necessary vitamins and mineral elements. 2. Sunshine and fresh air. 3. Cod liver oil and egg yolks.

Dr. Alfred Hess of New York, who has probably studied this disease of babies more than any other doctor, says that babies can be given cod liver oil as early as the second month, if it is begun in very small doses, not more than five drops a day, and increased a drop a day until a teaspoonful or so is taken. It can be taken after or between feedings.

Cod liver oil is not so much

SLIM ANKLES

Generally speaking, the slim girl has the slim ankles and the fat girl the chubby ones, but it doesn't always follow. Have you ever looked at a fat woman seated on a chair and wondered how such small feet ever supported so large a body? I have often, and think the explanation is that she too belonged to that vast tribe who "weighed less than 98 when married," and who have gone up steadily in pounds with every comfortable, house minding, child-tending year.

Every fat woman I ever met has boasted of her girlish slenderness. I think it's true when the fat woman has small feet, for feet usually don't put on weight. Ankles do, of course, but very thin ankles could not support a large body, they would look silly.

So when I am asked about ankle reduction, I always suggest consulting weight scales and a weight chart. Remember weight charts allow you about ten pounds too much by fashionable standards. If you are then ten pounds less than what your age and height call for in the matter of flesh, or if you are what it says, or more, reduce, and your ankles will reduce too.

You can go to beauty shops where they'll take off the fat, but it is not comfortable and it isn't cheap. It's easier to reduce, and to wear high shoes when you can, and to rub the ankles hard with the hands to work off as much soft flesh as possible. High shoes take off a lot, they are not in fashion now, and they are not as comfortable or as practical as low ones, but they will reduce the flesh around the ankle if they are snug fitting. You can tell how much by measuring every week.

If you massage, don't be afraid to rub hard, it will only do the ankle good. Pinch and knead the flesh, and rub up and down the legs from the calf to the heel. Choose dark color stockings to make the ankles appear slimmer; light shades make them appear larger.

Pretty ankles are slender hot milk is soothing when taken before retiring at night, you will get more nourishment from it at that time.

SEEK VICTIMS BY TORCHES AT NIGHT

Officials Directing Rescue Work Fear Many Bodies Are Among Ruins

CHICAGO, March 20.—The casualty record of Wednesday's tornado, revised by rescue work carried on by torchlight through a second night of terror, this morning stood at 817 dead and approximately 3,000 injured. Of these may be added at least 10,000 who have been made homeless. Of the dead, by far the great majority were killed in southern Illinois, where 650 was placed as the total. In Indiana 175 were killed. Missouri lost 31. A check-up of the injured in the hospitals by representatives of the Red Cross shows that many of those who were taken alive from wreckage after the storm roared on its way are nearing death from their injuries.

Many of the officials are fearful that ruins of larger buildings in Murphysboro and West Frankfort, Ill., may yield more dead bodies. Spurred by this alarming possibility, Colonel Albert Culbertson of the Illinois National guard, ordered troops in southern Illinois to make an immediate search of the wreckage.

Relief work was making rapid progress, according to word received at Red Cross headquarters. More than a thousand doctors and nurses were in the field and train loads of supplies had reached their destinations.

Out of the ruins of what once were imposing buildings and happy homes, the dead were taken today.

Many Missing

Here is a report that came by telephone from West Frankfort, one of the stricken cities:

"We have about 125 bodies in morgues here this morning and more are being brought in. We don't yet know how many dead there will be. A lot of buildings were torn all to pieces, and you have to dig about in the debris to find out whether there are any dead. You can't check up the living and find out how many are dead because the living don't know about their own families in many cases. A man, woman or child may be missing, but whether alive or dead is not known. Every family with a member unaccounted for hopes the loved one will turn up in the home of some neighbor. But they don't know and we can't find out for a long time yet. This work is just getting well organized."

Same Elsewhere

And the story that came by phone from West Frankfort was similar to the story that came from Murphysboro, a city not far from West Frankfort. Nobody knew just how many had lost their lives, none knew how many were injured.

And it was the same story from a score of other cities and villages—Parrish, Desoto, Bush, Endell, Thompsonville, McLeansboro and the others in the path of the great storm.

There are out-of-the-way places, lonely farms, where no relief worker has yet been able to penetrate. These are expected to add to the casualties.

But restoration of telephone and telegraph facilities into much of the devastated areas gave further evidence today of organization and system among relief workers. However, the facilities were meager and no one person was allowed to converse longer than five minutes. Telegraphic communication was limited.

Is Relief Center

Benton, situated almost midway between Murphysboro and West Frankfort, but far enough north to escape the storm, was the nucleus of relief work.

Telephone reports from Murphysboro shortly before 10 o'clock gave the official dead at 202 with about twenty missing. This was an increase of about seventy-five over thirty of the figures reported last night.

Further accurate death figures from West Frankfort placed the number of bodies at 114, with estimates that the total might possibly reach 150. At a later hour today practically all of the 300 missing had been accounted for.

SURVIVORS OF STORM NOW BURY DEAD

Benton Is Made Center Of Relief Work For All Southern Illinois

BENTON, Ill., March 20.—Torn and disheveled Southern Illinois turned slow plodding feet and sleep-haunted eyes toward its cemeteries today and began the most heart aching task of all—burying its dead.

Belated death had paused over a dozen storm-razed towns and villages during the night and the death toll mounted just a little higher.

Still other victims of the greatest cyclone catastrophe of modern years continued to cling tenaciously to the spark of life in their shattered bodies today—but they too, it is believed, will eventually answer the final beckoning.

Sleep—priceless jewel—stood at a premium today. Everywhere there stared feverishly out of haggard and grief-drawn faces, eyes that have seen horror in a hundred maddening phases. There has been little sleep among the homeless victims or rescue workers.

But restoration of telephone and telegraph facilities into much of the devastated areas gave further evidence today of organization and system among relief workers. However, the facilities were meager and no one person was allowed to converse longer than five minutes. Telegraphic communication was limited.

National Midwest Calamity Is Broadcast; Doctors Answer Call

CHICAGO, March 20.—The radio, as means of giving news of a national calamity and mobilizing relief forces almost instantaneously came into its own in Wednesday's mid-western tornado, it was revealed here.

As soon as the first news of the death-laden tornado trickled into Chicago newspaper offices over crippled wires, three radio stations here began broadcasting an appeal for doctors, nurses and money to be sent to the stricken area on a special train provided over the Illinois Central railroad.

For an hour the usual dance music and entertainment from these stations was silenced and into the night air went the cry for humanity.

Hundreds are dead and thousands injured in a tornado in southern Illinois. We want doctors, nurses and money."

Hardly had the announcers completed their first call when the little lights on the newspaper telephone switchboard in Hearst square began to gleam announcing that the message had been heard and was being answered.

Faster and faster they lighted as the girls worked feverishly to put the calls through. Doctors and nurses from all parts of Chicago were responding.

"There's a taxi waiting outside. I'll be there as soon as my grip is packed with medicine and instruments."

This was the universal word which came in and long before train time 130 doctors and forty nurses were assembled waiting to go to the relief of suffering humanity.

MYSTERY WOMAN IN SHEPHERD CASE

New Witness In McClintock Death Trial Detectives With Jones Agency

ROTARIANS MEET IN FRESNO RALLY

Hundreds Of Members At Annual Convention; Nominees Named

CHICAGO, March 20.—A mystery woman entered the McClintock case here today as the state and defense began marshalling their forces for the court battle tomorrow when William D. Shepherd and his co-defendant in the indictment charging murder for the death of William Nelson McClintock, will be arraigned.

The woman, said to have figured prominently in the affairs of the Jones detective agency, alleged to have been employed by Shepherd, was to be brought to the state's attorney's office today to tell her story. Two other women, connected with the agency, already have been questioned by Judge Harry Olson, chief investigator of the McClintock death investigation.

One of them, Gladys Roberts, former secretary to John Jones, head of the agency, is reported to have told Judge Olson of a visit made by Shepherd to the agency's offices.

"Conference" Told

"Shepherd and Jones went into a private office and closed the doors," Miss Roberts told him, Judge Olson declared. "Out of curiosity, I listened and heard some of the conversation. Shepherd had been drinking and I heard Jones say to him: 'The trouble with you, is you talk too much. If you stick to that one story, they will never get anything on you.'"

Faster and faster they lighted as the girls worked feverishly to put the calls through. Doctors and nurses from all parts of Chicago were responding.

The National Guard, Red Cross and private relief organizations work without rest. Soldiers aid the citizens in searching the ruins.

Will Make Survey

Major Robert Davis, Colonel Culbertson and other military officers are preparing to make a survey of the casualties, with the hope of reaching definite figures.

"We don't know how many are dead," said Colonel Culbertson. "There is no way of telling. We don't know how many bodies lie under the ruins."

It was predicted that bodies of those killed in the storm will continue to be found for many days to come and that the more seriously injured will be dying for days, adding to the long list of fatalities.

Relief work here and at other points in the stricken district is well under way. Tent cities have sprung up everywhere, food is being distributed and the people are recovering from the first shock of the disaster.

Nominees Named

Nominated this morning for governor of district No. 2 for the coming year were T. S. Bridges, past president of Oakland, Cal., Rotary, and Noel Porter of San Jose. The election was to be held tonight. The meeting will adjourn tomorrow.

The feature of today's session was a speech by Ralph P. Merritt, president of the National Agricultural Commission.

Merritt spoke on "Agricultural Cooperation and the International Viewpoint."

Included in the entertainment program was the annual golf tournament, scheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

Soldiers Aid Civilians In Recovering Tornado's Dead and Wounded

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., March 20.—As dawn broke over storm-torn southern Illinois today 500 of those who died in the tornado had been accounted for. Estimates don't mean much—they are changed so often. But they are still estimating the dead and missing and injured—estimating by the hundreds and thousands.

These estimates all remain about the same, from 800 to 1,000 dead, three or four hundred missing and three or four thousand injured.

From out of the ruins of shattered homes and public buildings dead bodies were recovered throughout the night in West Frankfort, Murphysboro, Desoto and the other cities and villages that the great storm swept over.

There is hardly a building left standing in the entire stricken area that does not contain one or more of the scores of dead.

BITTER FIGHT FORESEEN ON GAS TAX

Preliminary Skirmish Last Night Hints Referendum May Be Taken

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—Committed action on the 3-cent gas tax bill, which was debated at a public hearing in the Senate chamber here last night, will probably be taken at an executive session of the Senate revenue and taxation committee next Monday. It was announced today by Arthur H. Breed, author of the proposed increase in the gasoline levy.

The hearing on the bill last night was marked by frequent clashes between proponents and opponents of the measure and more than 1,200 persons turned out to hear the debate.

Senator Breed climaxed the debate from publishing OLD pictures of PREVIOUS disasters. This newspaper made complete arrangements to get the NEW pictures—and get them FIRST, at a considerable expense and with a great amount of effort.

All this was made possible through International Newsreel service, the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and the perfect organization of this newspaper, with the assistance of the Commercial Art & Engraving Co. of Los Angeles.

RELIEF FUND DONATIONS RECEIVED

Residents Send Checks To The Evening News For Storm-Swept Area

Glendaleans who have read the details of the tornado which left a trail of death and destruction in five states on Wednesday, have sent in checks to The Glendale Evening News for the tornado relief fund. Some of the contributors are former residents of the storm-stricken area, one person having lived in Murphysboro for nineteen years.

The Glendale Evening News will forward all checks mailed or left at the office of this paper, 139 South Brand boulevard, marked "For Tornado Relief Fund," to the proper designated relief fund officials in Los Angeles, agencies named to aid in the work, and the funds will be rushed to the storm-swept area.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold, 211 East Lomita avenue, early contributors to the relief fund, have special interest in sharing in the work, for Mrs. Arnold was born and lived in Murphysboro until she was 19 years old.

Perry J. Rogers, 355 West Palmer avenue, is a brother of Mrs. Arnold, and Mrs. D. W. Brant, 217 North Kenwood street, is a sister, both being born in Murphysboro.

They have no near relatives living in Murphysboro at the present time, but are anxiously awaiting news from distant relatives and many friends living in the city where the death list was high.

"I can hardly realize that the whole town was hit by the tornado," Mrs. Arnold said today, when she brought her contribution to the office of The Glendale Evening News. "Even the high school I attended was completely demolished."

Mrs. May C. Judson, 1620 Camulos street, in sending in her check for $10 to the tornado relief fund, stated that she had a number of friends living in De Soto, the Illinois village which was hit hardest by the storm. She is anxiously awaiting news from that place concerning the safety of her friends.

'IRON SAND' FIND GIVES JAPS HOPE

Deposits Discovered Point To Enough to Supply Oriental Needs

By LUTHER A. HUSTON
For International News Service.
TOKIO, Mar. 20.—Everyone in Japan is excited about "iron sand."

"Iron sand," it is said, is going to remove one of the greatest handicaps to Japan's industrial growth by making the nation independent of foreign lands in the matter of iron supply. "Iron sand" is going to convert more than $100,000,000 annually to domestic production channels, thereby aiding greatly in the stabilization of exchange.

"Iron sand" is going to give employment, directly or indirectly, to thousands of Japanese workmen, to cause the building of vast new factories and to usher in a new era of commercial prosperity.

The cause of all the excitement and the consequent stimulus to national自豪 is the discovery of a large deposit of iron sand in the form of "iron sand" in Iwate prefecture in Northern Japan. The deposit, running up to 40 per cent iron, is estimated to contain more than one billion tons.

Nothing New

Discovery of iron sand is not particularly new, inasmuch as deposits are known to exist in the United States, Australia, New Zealand and other countries.

Heretofore, however, the deposits have been of little value because of the absence of process whereby it could be smelted economically.

Such a process, it is now declared, has been discovered by Gore Matsukata, son of the late Prince Matsukata, who was Japan's most influential general.

The process is called "ferro-coke" and consists of mixing the iron sand with coking coal, before the coking process, and the iron is melted out of the sand and absorbed by the coke. In this form the iron is easily smelted, the coke providing both fuel for the blast furnaces and the substance which prevents the iron from smothering the draft.

Furnace at Work

One blast furnace already is at work, largely of an experimental nature, but plans are being made for organization of a company with a capital of $10,000,000. It is expected that 2,000 men will be employed by spring.

According to expert estimates 550 tons of iron can be produced from 2,500 tons of sand. Matsukata believes that there is a sufficient supply of iron sand in the deposit to supply Japan's needs for iron for the next 500 years. The field is said to cover more than sixteen miles, the deposit in some cases showing a depth of 35 feet.

The biggest problem, it is said, is that of a supply of coal. The necessity of importing coal adds to the expense of the smelting process.

It is said that iron sufficient to meet all of Japan's manufacturing needs can be extracted from the field at a cost that will enable the producers to meet foreign competition. Hitherto Japan had spent approximately $100,000,000 per year for iron products in foreign markets, to a great extent from the United States.

In many circles, discovery of the iron sand deposit and the economic smelting process has given rise to the firm belief that Japan is about to become independent of the rest of the world in the matter of iron supply. Should this prove true, the resulting benefits to Japanese commerce and industry would be obvious.

CALCUTTA, India, March 20.—Although never during his lifetime had he earned more than 8 cents a day, a coolie named Dobe left a fortune of $125,000 at his death.

This was revealed during a court action in which the administrator-general of intestates applied for letters of administration in the estate. It was explained that Dobe's large fortune was probably amassed through deals in real estate.

Admiral Koontz Invites All Valley Residents To Inspect Warships

Wednesday, April 1, has been designated special Glendale day by Admiral Koontz, commander of the Pacific battle fleet, now at anchor at San Pedro. On that day all residents of Glendale and the San Fernando valley will be welcomed to battleships at the harbor and will be accorded special privilege visits of the fleet officers and men.

RUSSIAN BEAR IS AFTER WHEAT PIT

Red Army Teaches Farmers How to Use American Tractors, Claim

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent, The Glendale Evening News. Copyright 1925.

NEW YORK, March 20.—The Russian Bear is striving with might and main to climb back into the world wheat pit. According to the research department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers the soviet government is attempting to bring this about by teaching the red army to farm with American tractors.

Russia formerly was the greatest grain exporting country in the world. In 1910 she exported 222,792,000 bushels of wheat and increased this to 223,776,000 bushels in 1911. In addition she formerly turned out annually about $80,000,000 bushels of rye and shipped more than half of it. Russia has soil suitable for wheat growing and farmers who understand wheat production. If she can get tractorized machinery and men to teach practical farm engineering she will immediately pull back into the prime exporting grain class. All that is standing in the way of such an accomplishment, machinery manufacturers say, is lack of credit.

Soviet Prospects
"Give the Soviet government sufficient credit to finance her tractorized machinery plans," a prominent official of one of the largest farm machinery manufacturing companies who has just returned from Russia said today, "and she could take the entire output of every American tractor factory for a year."

He estimates that such a demand would involve between 250,000 and 300,000 farm tractors and in the hands of operators who knew both wheat farming and engineering these would put upwards of 150,000,000 acres into grain and bring Russia back to pre-war production.

"As far as the United States manufacturers are concerned," said an official of the research department, "export business with soviet Russia is strictly on a C. O. D. New York basis. Losses in Russia to American manufacturers since 1914 are roughly put at $14,000,000. The vice-president of one great company making threshing machines declares that $2,000,000 of his company's funds shrivelled up when paper roubles lost their value.

Big Losses
A bale of these roubles formerly worth $2,000,000 now lies in a dusty bundle in a New York warehouse. In plants, warehouses and machinery our great firm is said to have marked some $20,000,000 off its books as a result of operations in Russia. Another concern missed $400,000 in cash which was on deposit in a Moscow bank when the Lenin regime came in. Consequently American manufacturers are watching Russia closely and waiting for a return to safety before extending credit.

Russia simply must have tractors when she starts in producing grain again for her horses are long since dead of starvation disease or old age or have been eaten by their former owners.

As one competent tractor engineer has said, "We must produce the work of twenty or more hand workers under the old peasant system of farming in Russia, the saving of man power has a tremendous appeal to the soviet leaders."

PIRATE'S TREASURE

MILAN, March 20.—A claim to a pirate's treasure, valued at tens of millions of dollars, declared to have been deposited in bank at Bombay, India, has been made here by Guglielmo Calouzi, who states he is a direct descendant of Frederico del Rue, an Italian navigator, who fled from Italy in the eighteenth century, after killing a man during a quarrel.

BACHELORS COMPLAIN

LONDON, March 20.—Consternation reigns among the wealthy and elderly bachelors of London, who regard the Pall Mall district of London as their own peculiar preserve. Their rights and dignities have been outraged by the "lower" classes, they claim.

CROSS WORDS

DULWICH, England, March 20.—Because the newspapers provided for the use of visitors to the public library are being continually "held up" by cross-word puzzle enthusiasts, the librarian of the Dulwich public library has given orders for the cross-word puzzles to be deleted from the newspapers before they are placed on the stands.

ATWATER RESIDENTS SEEK RIGHT OF WAY

Several Dedications Needed for Truck Highway Along Los Angeles River; Non-Parking Order Issued

Necessary remaining dedications for the proposed truck boulevard along the east bank of the Los Angeles river will be sought by a committee of Atwater Park residents, headed by officers of the Atwater Improvement association. All dedications for the truck highway excepting in the vicinity from Los Feliz road to Dayton street are now in the hands of the city of Los Angeles.

Certain strips of land in this section remain under private control and are holding up completion of dedicatory work. Further preliminary steps necessary before actual construction of the truck highway can start are also being retarded. In order to rush the work every effort will be made to secure the dedications, P. E. Lipscomb, secretary of the Improvement association, said.

New Parking Orders

Positively no parking of automobiles will be permitted against the curbs adjacent to the Pacific Electric right-of-way on Glendale boulevard in the future, according to an order issued yesterday by the Los Angeles police department, following recommendation from the traffic commission. Accordingly, signs warning all motorists not to park their cars along the right-of-way were posted yesterday afternoon. The ruling goes into effect immediately, Sergeant Jerry Batten of the Lincoln Heights police station, said. Sergeant Batten has been detailed to enforce the ruling, which affects Glendale boulevard all the way from Glenhurst avenue to the Southern Pacific tracks.

Many accidents that have occurred along Glendale boulevard have been directly attributable to machines parked along the right-of-way in violation of the law, Sergeant Batten stated. The large number of traffic crashes along the boulevard has attracted the attention of the traffic commission, with the result that the parking practice has been definitely ordered discontinued.

To Tell Social Work

Mrs. Ida Neth, founder of the Girls' Corner club of Los Angeles, an organization to look after the needs of working girls that are without homes and parents, will be the main speaker at a special prayer-meeting service at the Atwater Baptist church a week from Sunday night. The service will be under the auspices of the Women's Missionary society of the church. Mrs. Neth will tell of experiences she has had in her social work in Los Angeles, where she comes in contact with hundreds of girls in need of help weekly.

Sunday Church Services

Victor Johnson, reader, from South Pasadena will give a number of recitations at the night service at the Baptist church next Sunday. He will read "Pieces of Silver," a dramatic work, telling of the betrayal of Christ. In addition, Rev. M. Grant Nelson, pastor of the church, will talk on "With the Christian Church from Constantine to Luther," the fourth in his series of sermons on the general topic, "Miracles of Christianity." At the morning service Sunday Rev. Nelson will preach on "The Upward Look."

Ready For May Fete

Children at the Atwater grammar school are preparing for the May fete to be held at the school on May 1, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association. The children are being coached for the affair by teachers at the school, under Miss Rosalind Gates, principal. Mrs. E. V. Bacon, president of the association, is in charge of arrangements for the May celebration.

MILADY'S LATEST

Of Same Material As Dress Newest Fad Ends In Fur Bands

By AILEEN LAMONT Special Correspondent of the Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925 NEW YORK, March 20.—A lot of trains start from the Grand Central Terminal but the most fashionable trains now start from the left hip. The trains sometimes are of lace but usually are of the same material as the evening dress. In nearly every instance they are banded at the end with fur. The vogue originated in England where Miss Madge Titherage, leading woman in "Grounds for Divorce," made it popular.

The new spring toccoats for women are made of precisely the same material and on the same lines as the newest toccoats for men. One husband found, however, that his wife's coat—from the same shop as his own and of corresponding material—cost twice as much. In explaining his wife said: "Well, you see, my coat ripples while yours just rips."

Instead of booting the pigsink, the shoe manufacturers now pigsink the boot. Some of the newest street shoes are of this leather which after centuries of use for saddleery and pocket books have at last become a covering for hands and feet. It is frequently combined with kid of contrasting hues.

RADIOS OVERCOME CHURCHMEN 49-19

Score Close Only In First Period; Winners Shoot Baskets Rapidly

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.
The M. E. churchmen dropped down into fifth place last night when the Radios defeated them in a one-sided battle, 49 to 19, at the Harvard High school gym. The game started out like a real contest, the first five minutes of play passing without a goal being made, and the initial goal ended 6 to 2, Radios.

The Radios pulled away in the second quarter and were leading, 16 to 6, at half time. They continued to pile up points in the third period, adding 16 markers while holding the churchmen to a lone point. In the final stanza the Radios again ran wild, getting 17 points, while the M. E. church scored six baskets.

Neel, center for the Radios, was high point man, getting eleven baskets and one free throw. Worthman accounted for ten points on the Radios' score sheet. McCormick led the churchmen in scoring, getting four baskets.

How They Scored

Wolfe started the scoring in the first quarter, but not until five minutes had elapsed. Both teams were trying hard to find the hoop, but without success. McAllister evened up the count. Neel put the Radios ahead, and McKowan caged a goal as the quarter ended. Shortly after the second period started, Wimmer strengthened the Radios' lead with a basket. McCormick pulled a sensational shot to make it 8-4. Worthman scored, 10-4. McCormick came back with another, 10-6. Wimmer added a basket and Neel made two in quick succession.

The Radios got three baskets in the third period. Neel, Soth and Neel, before the churchmen made their only point, a free throw by Hallam. The order of Radio baskets for the balance of the third period was as follows: Worthman, Neel, Soth, Worthman. The count stood 32-7 at the end of the quarter. Whitney found the hoop early in the fourth quarter, 32-9. Neel scored, 34-9. Wimmer made it 36-9. Hallam cut down the lead, 36-11. Wimmer tossed another one, 33-11. Then the Radios opened up and the baskets were made in this order: Neel, McKowan, Neel, free throw, Neel, Neel, making the count 47-11. Hallam scored, 47-13. McKowan made it 49-13. McCormick scored, 49-15, and repeated, 49-17. Dick scored a basket as the game ended, 49-19.

The Radios' record is now 2-0-0. The M. E. churchmen are 1-1-0. Radios 6 19 16 17 - 49
M. E. church 2 4 1 12 - 19

The game was the final contest for the third week in the second round of play. Three weeks more remain on the schedule, with a possibility of a fourth week to clear up postponed games.

Another "dope" story on the possible outcome and what might happen, together with results for the second round and standings to date, will appear on the sports page of The Glendale Evening News tomorrow.

BOXING REVENGE

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—Probable state revenues aggregating $110,000 annually from the 5 per cent state tax on boxing contest receipts was indicated in the report of W. H. Hanlon, member of the State Athletic association for the three-month period beginning December 15, 1924, when the commission was appointed.

TO DEFEND TITLE

NEW YORK, March 20.—Special precautions against another unpopular decision will be taken at Madison Square garden tonight when Eddie "Cannon Ball" Martin defends his world's bantamweight title against Charley Rosenberg. Odds on the outcome slightly favored Martin.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP by FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, March 20.—One thing that should be borne in mind in all this talk about Harry Wills is that the big negro is under contract with Rickard for three fights. One of these battles has been held and so there are two more to go before Paddy Mullins and his real meal ticket are free of their commitment to Tex.

It is assured now that as soon as Mullins is certain that Dempsey will not fight before fall that he will sign up for Gibbons, so fans may count on a Gibbons-Wills bout as the mid-summer event.

The writer predicts right here that it will be one of the greatest bouts ever pulled by famous fighters. Tommy Gibbons' ability to hold and hit at the same time was revealed at Shelby while Wills' genius in this respect is even better known.

One or the other is liable to be disqualified if a competent and honest referee is employed. Anything, in fact, is apt to happen in this bout—except good clean fighting.

While this is happening in New York, Dempsey is not likely to be idle until next fall. If he is to defend his title against a real contender at that time he will need the benefit of a bout calling for real action this summer and the chances are that Jack Renault, who made a good showing against Wills though defeated, will be the champion's opponent. It will be a west-coast bout and ought to make big money.

Jack Kearns' cocky letter to the New York Boxing Commission is likely to get the dapper one into a lot of trouble. George Brower the courteous and cultured gentleman, has been side tracked and with affairs in the hands of those two meat axes, Muldoon and Farley, Dempsey's manager is liable to find himself up against a pretty stiff game.

HOLLYWOOD — Main event, Pled La Barba vs. George Rivers, 118 pounds, ten rounds; Herman Auerbach vs. Johnny Grella, 145 pounds, six rounds; Gene Cline vs. Billy Lane, 145 pounds, six rounds; Dave Taylor vs. Earl Little, 175 pounds, four rounds; Billy Blake vs. Chief Cyrus, 118 pounds, four rounds.

Five Found Guilty Of Transporting Films

TRENTON, N. J., March 20.—Five co-defendants will face Federal Judge Bodine here next Tuesday for sentence, following their conviction last night on charges of having transported Dempsey-Carpenter fight films from New Jersey in violation of the federal law.

The five are George L. "Tex" Rickard, fight promoter; Fred C. Quimby, who produced the films; Teddy Hayes of Los Angeles, formerly Dempsey's secretary; Frank B. Flourney, matchmaker at Madison Square Garden, and Jasper C. Mumma, Washington and Cincinnati newspaper man. James Dougherty of Philadelphia, was acquitted.

DYNAMITERS WIN TWIN BALL GAME

Regulars And Yannigans Of Local High School Beat Pasadena Teams

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
For The Evening News Staff.

Coach Wolfe's Dynamiters took the measure of the Pasadena Bulldogs yesterday in two games. In the game between the first-class squad the Dynamiters won in six innings, 8 to 4. The Yannigans also fought six rounds, the local outfit emerging victorious, 8 to 5.

In the game at Pasadena between the regulars, Elmer Muff put the tilt on ice in the first inning when he hit a liner to left field which went for a home run and drove in three runners who had been so much dead weight on the sacks. Following Muff's circuit clout Fred Smith duplicated another liner along the third base line.

In the third inning two runs came in for Pasadena. After Brooke gave Manual a free ticket to first and boosted him to second with a wild pitch, Rady singled to center, sending Manual across the rubber, and taking third on a grand mixup to nab Manual at the plate. Ray Gene Dole had a hot roller leak through his mitt and Rady tripped in.

A wild throw by Rady, a sacrifice bunt by Brooke, and a wild pitch sent Muff in with Glendale's sixth score in the fifth inning. The Bulldogs finished off their work with a brace of tallies in the fifth inning, a double, a single, and a pair of boots by Stewart accomplishing the deed.

Inffield Helps

Glendale's final two came in the last inning when Stewart and Smith scored on a hit, a walk, and an error by Ash.

Both Bill Brooke and Charley Smith did well for Glendale. "Jerk" Jergens worked hard for the Bulldogs but was ruined by Muff's homer at an inopportune moment. Glendale's new infield combination won the game by playing tight ball and carrying Wolfe's boys along in the pinches.

In the Yannigan game, played on Broadway field, the small assemblage of spectators was thrilled by a fast and furious sixth inning. With the score standing 3 to 1 against them the Bulldogs came to bat in the sixth and scored four runs, on a homer, a walk, and two errors. However, the Dynamiter second string team coppered the game by pushing over five markers, going the Millionaires one better, on two hits, a walk, and four or five boots by the Pasadena infield.

The box score for the regulars:

TRENTON, N. J., March 20.—Five co-defendants will face Federal Judge Bodine here next Tuesday for sentence, following their conviction last night on charges of having transported Dempsey-Carpenter fight films from New Jersey in violation of the federal law.

The five are George L. "Tex" Rickard, fight promoter; Fred C. Quimby, who produced the films; Teddy Hayes of Los Angeles, formerly Dempsey's secretary; Frank B. Flourney, matchmaker at Madison Square Garden, and Jasper C. Mumma, Washington and Cincinnati newspaper man. James Dougherty of Philadelphia, was acquitted.

RELATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Commercial relations between the United States and Latin-American are such that exporters of this country virtually regard Latin-American markets as domestic.

'SOCIETY' LABOR

TOKYO, March 20.—It has been estimated that there are more than 1,000 men in Tokio who make their living by laboring in the cause of some "society."

Siam is to have a national exposition of trade and industries of that country.

CONFIDENCE SEEN AT PIRATE CAMP

Players Nearly Ready For Opening Of Season As Date Approaches

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 20.

Confidence that intangible element, possession or lack of which frequently makes or breaks baseball clubs, fairly abounds this year in the Pirate spring-training camp here.

From Barney Dreyfus, veteran president of the Pittsburgh National league club, down to the local bat boy and including peppery Bill McKechnie, hustling manager, and every member of the fifty men in camp here, there seems to be a feeling that this is to be the Pirates' year. McKechnie, naturally, is chary of predictions.

"It's too soon to say how the club is going to shape up," he said today as he directed practice. But he hastened to add that he was in no wise displeased with the way things were shaping up and indicated that he was looking forward to the opening of the season in a decidedly optimistic frame of mind.

Inffield Fast

The collective eye of the baseball squad, management, camp followers and baseball critics is trained on one addition to the Pirate squad. He is Al Niehaus.

The Pirates need a first baseman and indications are that in Niehaus they have found one. He led the Southern association in batting last year and is starting out in practice here like he meant to do something just like that this year in big company. If Niehaus can hit, runs the gossip, the Pirates are just about made.

In Glenn Wright at short, Moore at second and "Pie" Traynor at third, McKechnie has a collection of infield speed demons that are going to run away with something. Add Carey, Cuylar and Bigbee to this trio as speed merchants on the bases, and an idea is gleaned that a lot of bases are going to be purloined by the 1925 Pirate aggregation.

The outfield will be a veteran one, Cuylar, who has been lambing them over the left field fence here, will be in right. "Scoop" Carey in center and Bigbee in left. Grantham and Bernhart are struggling like demons to break into this combination but they are finding the chance slim. But they are going to add a lot of collective strength to the team and if the breaks give them a chance "watch their smoke."

Pitching Staff

Earl Smith, who hits left-handed, is back of the plate with Gooch to assist him in the heavy work. And in pitching—there comes another "if." The veterans haven't had time enough to show what they will be able to do this year and it's too early to get a line on the youngsters. But all are agreed that Pas. Robles is an ideal place for the pitchers to get into shape. Friendly mountains shelter the playing field from breezes that put kinks in muscles that are being worked into shape.

RELATIONS

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Complete plans for the organization of an electric railway to connect Genoa, Milan and Turin are under consideration by Premier Mussolini as president of the council. The proposed line will run at a speed of 110 miles an hour—unequalled by any other train in Italy.

At any rate McKechnie is going to have a fast, hard-hitting, well-balanced aggregation that with any sort of breaks is going to make the pennant race in the senior league something to talk about.

MUSSOLINI PLANS

ROME, March 20.—Complete plans for the organization of an electric railway to connect Genoa, Milan and Turin are under consideration by Premier Mussolini as president of the council. The proposed line will run at a speed of 110 miles an hour—unequalled by any other train in Italy.

MOORS DETERMINED

SHESHUAN, Morocco, March 20.—Under the leadership of Abd-el-Krim, Riff tribesmen, who for years have been harassing Spanish occupational troops in Morocco, are prepared to "fight to the finish to free their country from the yoke of Spanish tyranny."

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT.

Mr. Rhoades was mayor of Missoula, Montana, 1912 to 1914. The following letter from Mr. Frank Thomas of that city, a banker and big property owner, is self explanatory:

Frank Thomas,
Hammond Building,
Missoula, Mont.
Glendale Evening News,
Glendale, Calif.

Have just learned through friends in your city that Jas. M. Rhoades is a candidate for the city commission of Glendale.

When I learned that, my first thought was: "Is there any way that I can help him?" I went to the Missoulian office, found the names of the papers published in Glendale and from the number selected yours.

I want to bear testimony to the solid worth, the sterling character and the splendid ability of Jim Rhoades. He was for a good many years one of Missoula's most active and most useful citizens. He sense, in an almost uncanny way, opportunities for civic development and improvement and he has a way of putting over his ideas with little fuss and splendor.

For two years Mr. Rhoades was mayor of Missoula. He made good. That tells the story. His whole thought was given and his whole effort was put forth to further the growth and development of this city. The results were phenomenal.

The voters of Glendale know what they want. Certainly it is not for me to advise them. But I take the liberty of saying that if they elect Jim Rhoades he will give a good account of his stewardship. He will serve the city faithfully, intelligently and efficiently.

Yours truly,
(Signed):

FRANK THOMAS.

RETAILERS HOSTS AT KIWANIS CLUB

Members and Wives Present At Luncheon Meeting Held Today Noon

Retail merchants who are members of the Glendale Kiwanis club were hosts to other members of the club and their wives at the luncheon meeting held today noon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. Jesse Smith, chairman of the business methods committee, was in charge of the program, which was arranged to acquaint the women with local merchants and promote the "buy-in-Glendale" idea.

Arthur Loomis, past president of the Los Angeles Ad club, was the principle speaker. He said eighty per cent of the businesses formed tail for the following reasons: Lack of standardization, insufficient capital, untruthful business policy, lack of proper management, untruthful advertising, in competent sales forces, and failure to look ahead.

Unique publicity was received by Secretary Burton McGinnis from the national headquarters at St. Paul. The message was typed on "roll your own" paper and enclosed in small sack. Details of convention plans were given. A. L. Laird, past president and district trustee, and M. D. Davis were elected delegates to the national convention. The board of directors will select two alternates.

Prizes Donated
The attendance prize, donated by W. T. Gillian was won by M. Davis' child's tent. Special prizes were donated by the merchants for the women. The winners and donors were: Mrs. T. C. Young from Newton Electric Co.; Mrs. J. Watson, R. M. Brown from Mrs. John Fraser, William Bode; Mrs. E. N. Radke, from E. P. Beck; Mrs. Bert Perry from Frank Echols; Mrs. W. T. Gilliam from Roy Goode; Mrs. Frank L. Fox from Guy H. Gibbs; Mrs. Frank Echols from D. L. Gregg; Mrs. William H. Hooper from Charles Hatz; Mrs. Lyman Clark from William H. Hooper; Mrs. George Lyons from W. G. Lauderdale; Mrs. F. B. Walton from George Lyons; Mrs. C. W. Taylor from Councilman Harry MacBain; Mrs. Margaret Hollister from E. C. Pendroy; Mrs. W. G. Totman; Mrs. Edward Swift from D. H. Webb; Mrs. C. D. Thom from Fred Walther; Mrs. J. Ray Bentley from W. C. Winkler.

Several selections were sung by the glee club composed of George Lyons, Ole Andersen, Elwood Ingledue, Dr. Jack Anderson, E. P. Hayward, Park Arnold, W. A. How and John D. Fraser, directed by William Bode, with Mrs. George Lyons at the piano.

Visiting Kiwanians present were: A. L. Aldridge, Pasadena; Ross A. Ross, Santa Barbara; Andrew Wilson, Eagle Rock; Loren G. Ury, Pasadena; A. D. Sheldon, Pasadena, and F. W. Luby, Eagle Rock.

SUPERVISORS URGE OIL FIRM CONSENT

Standard Company Told Act In Opposing Tax Bill Is Resented

SACRAMENTO, March 20.—Declaring that "we believe your continued opposition to the measure is so thoroughly resented that the result will surely react against your company," the legislative committee of the California State Supervisors' association wired K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard Oil Co., at San Francisco, asking that the company withdraw its opposition to the 3-cent gasoline tax.

The committee sets forth that the State Supervisors' association has unanimously approved the gas tax increase and adds that "we are reliably informed that some of the oil companies do not offer any objection and that your company is leading the opposition."

Dread Of Pestilence Seizes Tornado Area

CHICAGO, March 20.—What does the hero do when he saves the girl from death?

Maries her, of course, and they live happily ever after.

Deputy Sheriff Louis

Flentje and Ethel Timme, known as "Blonde Kitty," ran true to story-book form.

Ethel, arrested with a male friend in the fatal shooting of a private watchman, confessed.

Then entered the hero, Flentje, after some shooting, arrested Otto Malm, and Malm, with his wife, Katherine, also confessed shooting the watchman. A jury preferred the Malm confession to "Blonde Kitty's" story and found the former couple guilty.

And when "Blonde Kitty"

was freed the first person

she thanked was the deputy sheriff.

Now it has just been learned that they were married recently.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, March 20.—Stocks prices worked moderately higher today, principally as the result of the lifting of professional oil selling restrictions, the opening of shorts. Market activity was much lower by comparison with the previous sessions of the week, but demand for stocks was well diversified and all of the important departments of the market participated in the rally.

A decline in call money rates to 3 per cent and persistent covering by the bear party was reflected in higher prices in the market leaders which have been under heaviest pressure this week. General Electric, at 266, showed a gain of 5 points from Thursday's low; Universal Pipe common and preferred were up about 7 points; Cast Iron Pipe, up 11; American Can, up 5; United States Steel, up 2½; Pan-American Oil, up 7.

The grain markets also improved as the day advanced. Cotton lost at the start, but prices snapped back on short covering and trade buying.

Rail stocks were in good demand today with special interest displayed in Pittsburgh & West Virginia, the Erie stocks, Union Pacific, New Haven and Northern Pacific. St. Paul preferred rose 2 points on short covering. Texas & Pacific and Rock Island displayed some of the strength and activity which characterized their movements earlier in the month.

Elevator Boy's Love
Ends In Maid's Death

BUDAPEST, March 20.—Matthias Kiraly was an elevator boy in the fashionable Ritz hotel here, and he was madly in love with Elizabeth Adam, a chambermaid, who spurned him. As the girl entered his elevator to go to another floor, Matthias kept her a prisoner, running the car from cellar to roof and back a number of times, while he pressed his suit.

Maddened by the girl's refusal to marry him, he plunged a knife into her breast, ran the elevator to the top floor and slashed his own throat. Guests heard their groans, and Matthias was saved from death, but the girl died.

'Wild Irish Rose' Holds
An Unexpected 'Kick'

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 20.—Two Cleveland patrolmen are considering the writing of a new sheet music "tide" to be called "Kentucky Moon" after their efforts to produce "My Wild Irish Rose" on a player piano in a confectionery store turned out so different from what they expected.

After searching the store for two hours to find liquor believed to be hidden there, the official pair, coatless, perspiring and disgruntled, decided to end the search and to soothe their souls with music from the store piano. But instead of the music roll a pint of "moonshine" was found. They mopped up evidence and arrested the proprietor.

ORANGES BRING CASH
POMONA, March 20.—Fifty thousand dollars a day from sale of Pomona valley oranges is being placed in local banks by the San Antonio Fruit Growers exchange for the seven associations that comprise it. This week the total will be at least $300,000 and the total for the month will be about $1,000,000. This is probably the largest amount of money received in one month for local fruit in the history of Pomona county. Although prices per box are not so high as in several former years, a large amount of fruit is available as a result of the scientific methods used in heating the groves and the price per box is high enough to bring the totals above those of former years.

CANTALOUPE RAPID

EL CENTRO, March 20.—Cantaloupe vines have made such headway in the past few weeks that an early harvest is predicted. Unless adverse weather conditions prevail in April ripe melons are likely to be shipped from Imperial valley as early as the first week in May. Usually the first cantaloupes are reported after May 15, and crate shipments begin then and continue until the latter part of the month. Nearly 28,000 acres were planted to cantaloupes this year.

BATHHOUSE IS GIFT

SANTA BARBARA, March 20.—The gift of a $100,000 bathhouse to Santa Barbara by David Gray, wealthy Montecito resident, is announced. The announcement of the name of the donor confirmed a report that the bathhouse would be given the city if bonds to purchase a mile of beach front carried.

WANT NEW COURTHOUSE

SAN BERNARDINO, March 20.—Voters of San Bernardino county will be asked to approve an issue of $475,000 in bonds for a new county court house at a special election to be held about May 14. A building approximately 300 by 90 feet is planned. It will be located in the center of a four-acre site donated by the people of this city. Provisions for a new county jail is to be made upon the roof of the courthouse, where it will not be visible from the street.

SCHOOL EQUIPMENT

REDLANDS, March 20.—The colleges and universities of this country, especially in California, are generally as well equipped to give the student as great advantages for learning as those of Europe, in the opinion of Prof. H. F. Brackett of the department of physical science, of Pomona college, who has just returned from visiting the centers of learning of Great Britain and the continent. Prof. Brackett told members of the Redlands Rotary club that his observation in his travels was that there are as many students coming from Europe to the United States as there are going from here to Europe.

TANKER TO HAUL MOLASSES

SANTA BARBARA, March 20.—The Associated Oil tanker W. F. Herrin, which docks periodically at Alcatraz landing, twenty-five miles west of Santa Barbara, will be converted into a "molasses tanker" when it reaches Honolulu. The tanker left Alcatraz with a cargo of fuel oil to be used by the navy in fleet maneuvers off Honolulu. The oil was produced in the Santa Maria fields and pumped fifty miles to the landing. On reaching Honolulu the hold of the ship will be thoroughly washed out, steamed and then filled with molasses consigned to San Francisco. Tankers usually return from Honolulu under ballast. This trip will be the first one ever attempted with a commercial cargo of anything but oil.

TWO NEW WELLS FLOW

HUNTINGTON BEACH, March 20.—A deep well in the northwestern part of the oil field here, which came in at 15,000 barrels of twenty-eight gravity oil, has jumped the production of the field to 45,000 barrels a day. Another gusher was struck in a shallow zone on the east side and is now flowing 1400 barrels of twenty-seven gravity oil.

CROPS THRIVING

LOMPOC, March 20.—The first carload of cabbage grown by W. H. Cooper on his ranch here has been shipped. Cooper has about fifteen acres planted to cabbage. He has also experimented successfully with other vegetables. Considerable acreage has been planted on leased lands by the American Sugar Beet Co., and the Union Sugar Beet Co. The condition of the crop is reported excellent.

GOVERNOR REFUSES PAPERS

FULLERTON, March 20.—Refusion papers for extradition of Ardys Hill, Fullerton youth, who is alleged to have cashed $459 in forged checks among local merchants and at the Standard Bank of Orange county, and then fled to Kansas where he is held, were denied by Governor Richardson. Young Hill had signed his father's name to the checks, it was claimed.

MOSQUITO CONTROL PLANNED

NEWPORT BEACH, March 20.—The Orange county Chamber of Commerce has received a report from the committee on mosquito control to the effect that it will present its summary to the Newport board of trustees at their next meeting. The proposed plan is to establish a district taking in a large area of coast and radi-
